The Voice of Envy.
The fact that a young lady of Florence, N. J., U. S. A., almost lost her life as the result of laughing immoderately for eight hours at a joke which was made to her, has, we note, made the American comic papers more cautious than usual.—London Punch.

None of that "fresh roasted loose by the pound" store stuff from nobody knows where, full of dust, atmosphere and soiled hands, but the real old, genuine egg and sugar coated Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, which the folks keep in the original package and grind in the kitchen.

That's Coffee!
Complies with all requirements of the National Pure Food and Drug Laws (No. 2044, filed at Washington).

Encouragement.
It is a great mistake to take a good action performed by some one else as a matter of course. If people would but realize that they are better served when they themselves are kind and considerate the world would be the better.
Never be too careless or too superior to give a word of praise for a word of encouragement has the effect of a tonic upon drooping spirits and adds a new incentive to the worker.
Of course, injudicious praise is a mistake, but if work is badly done try to find some good point about it or point out the mistakes as kindly as possible.

Then and Now.
In the days of old when knights were bold and wore sheeted armor and vests, they battled for the right to hold fair maidens to their manly breasts. They went to war and risked their lives to get the girls they wished to win, and when they'd claimed them as their wives supported them through thick and thin. But in these days when every man appears to think he ought to try to get as wealthy as he can, and love is something he can buy, his wife's a partner that he takes in business for a year or two; then one or else the other breaks the ties and looks for something new.

Senator Hale's Story Gives Next Rebuke to Congressman.

Senator Hale had been inveighing at a dinner against long speeches. "But, senator," said a congressman, "you can't accuse me of ever having made too long a speech, can you?"

Senator Hale smiled. "Perhaps not," he said; "and again, but did you ever hear about the temperance lecturer?"

"Well, you must know that there was a temperance lecturer in Maine who came to Ellsworth and lectured. He hit out pretty hard from the shoulder at these so-called moderate drinkers and at the end of his remarks an Ellsworth man took him aside and said in an aggrieved tone:

"Look here, Jim; I am a moderate drinker, as all the town knows, and to many people it is going to seem as if a good part of your lecture was pointed at me. What did you want to do it for, Jim? You never saw me with more on board than I could carry."

"What's that?" said the temperance lecturer.

"You never saw me with a bigger load than I could carry, did you?"

"The lecturer frowned.

"Well, no," he said, slowly, "but I have seen you when I thought you'd have done better to go twice for it."

For a mild easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Donn's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

Occupation for Women.

Working in silver is one of the most fascinating occupations open to women. The work, though absorbing, is not arduous and may be remunerative almost from the start. The materials are not costly, and few tools are required. The work is done at home, and more than one clever girl has interested herself in designing unique buckles and bangles.
